The Royal Portfolio is a collection of luxury hotels, lodges and private residences in iconic South African destinations owned and run by the Biden Family. Since Liz Biden started The Royal Portfolio in 1999 there has been a distinct focus on experiential travel. Royal Malewane and its three luxury lodges in the Greater Kruger National Park exude the romance and beauty of a bygone age while offering every modern comfort and unrivalled game viewing with one of the most qualified guiding teams in Africa. Birkenhead House in Hermanus offers some of the best land based whale watching opportunities in the world. La Residence is set among the vineyards of Franschhoek and focuses on the epicurean delights of the region while at The Silo Hotel guests can indulge in the art and culture of Cape Town.

The Royal Portfolio offers the perfect circuit of quintessentially South African experiences and as such we have carefully crafted a number of suggested itineraries to suit our guests' discerning travel requirements.
